

Change and Variation in Canada 9
 University of Ottawa • May 7-8 2016
 70 Laurier avenue East, room 509

Changement et variation au Canada 9
 Université d'Ottawa • 7-8 mai 2016
 70 avenue Laurier est, pièce 509

Saturday May 7 • Samedi 7 mai

8:00-8:45	Registration and breakfast • Inscription et déjeûner
8:45-9:00	Welcoming remarks • Mot de bienvenue
9:00-9:30	Comparisons across the pond: Canadian varieties and their European counterparts Chair: Shana Poplack
9:30-10:00	Going back to the source: A comparative analysis of the expression of necessity in Hexagonal and Quebec French Laura Kastronic • University of Ottawa
10:00-10:30	L'expression de la référence temporelle au futur dans les textos québécois et belges Mireille Tremblay <sup>1</sup> , Hélène Blondeau <sup>2</sup> & Emmanuelle Labeau <sup>3</sup> • <sup>1</sup> Université de Montréal , <sup>2</sup> University of Florida , <sup>3</sup> Aston University
10:30-10:50	This seems to be on the way out: Covariants of seem subordination in Canadian and British English Marisa Brook • University of Toronto
10:30-10:50	Coffee break • Pause café
10:50-11:20	Investigating language contact Chair: Stephen Levey
11:20-11:50	(Why) is code-switching sometimes a predictor of contact effects? Ruth Maddeaux <sup>1</sup> , Paulina Lyskawa <sup>2</sup> , Emilia Melara <sup>1</sup> & Naomi Nagy <sup>1</sup> • <sup>1</sup> University of Toronto , <sup>2</sup> University of Maryland
11:50-12:20	Codeswitches or borrowings: Who cares? Evidence from English lone-origin nouns in Lebanese Arabic Nahed Mourad • University of Ottawa
11:50-12:20	Phonological variability: Insights from North American varieties Chair: Sali Tagliamonte
12:20-12:50	Emerging structure in vowel-to-vowel coarticulation: Indications of changes to the Canadian French vowel system in apparent time Jeffrey Lamontagne • McGill University
12:50-2:00	Cross-Roads at the Linguistic Market: Canadian Raising and Post-Vocalic-R on Mount Desert Island M.J. Antiqua-Parlee • Memorial University of Newfoundland
12:50-2:00	Lunch (on your own) • Dîner (libre)
2:00-2:30	Discourse-pragmatic variation and change in Canada's national languages Chair: Alex D'Arcy
2:30-3:00	Like in the Adjective Phrase: Queering ongoing change in Toronto, Canada Alexah Konnelly • University of Toronto
3:00-3:30	L'usage des marqueurs discursifs en français laurentien: le cas des variantes mais vs. ben Claire Djuikui Dountsop • Université de Montréal
3:00-3:30	Just a stereotype, eh? Brianna Suss • University of Toronto

3:30-3:50	Coffee break • Pause café
3:50-4:20	Beyond English: Morpho-syntactic variability in other languages Chair: Naomi Nagy
4:20-4:50	Agreeing to disagree: The lexical effect on past participle gender agreement in French Suzanne Robillard • University of Ottawa
4:50-5:20	Subject-verb order in Jordanian Arabic: A variationist approach Ekab Al-Shawashreh • University of Ottawa
6:00-	Patterns of futurity: A variationist study of future temporal reference in spoken Italian Salvatore Digesto • University of Ottawa
6:00-	Networking activity • Activité de réseautage

Sunday May 8 • Dimanche 8 mai

8:30-9:00	Breakfast • Déjeuner
9:00-9:30	Language change Chair: Nathalie Dion
9:30-10:00	Continuing our study of stable variation: The Role of continuous factor groups Shayna Gardiner • University of Toronto
10:00-10:30	Stative possessives in Newfoundland English – A tale of two cities Ismar Muhic • Memorial University of Newfoundland
10:30-11:00	Three Early Modern English Ladies Mary Aksim • University of Toronto
11:00-11:20	Revitalizing old relatives: Evidence from Early and Late Modern English (1571-1796) Stephen Levey • University of Ottawa
11:20-11:50	Coffee break • Pause café
11:50-12:20	Really amazing and totally cool: Intensifiers, adjectives and semantic change in Canadian English Chair: Gerard Van Herk
12:20-12:50	A variationist analysis of intensifiers in cooking shows Mariana Hernandez-Hernandez • Memorial University of Newfoundland
	Great, cool, and amazing: Adjectives of positive evaluation in Canadian English Katharina Pabst <sup>1</sup> , Sali A. Tagliamonte <sup>2</sup> & Students of 2015 LSA Summer Institute • <sup>1</sup> University of Buffalo , <sup>2</sup> University of Toronto
	A 'little' story from Northern Ontario: Semantic variation in the linguistic system Sali A. Tagliamonte & Ruth Maddeaux • University of Toronto